

IMPARTIALITY POLICY

Certification Europe Ltd ensures that full public confidence is maintained in the impartiality and independence of its assessment and certification processes by ensuring that the policies and procedures under which Certification Europe Ltd operates are non-discriminatory and are administered in a non-discriminatory manner.

Processes shall not be used to impede or inhibit access by applicants to Certification Europe Ltd services and Certification Europe Ltd undertakes to make its services accessible to all applicants within those sectors for which it has been accredited, subject to normal commercial law.

The criteria against which Certification Europe Ltd assess applicants are those outlined in relevant standards or other normative documents relevant to the function performed. Impartiality is assured since the granting of certification will be in accordance with documented criteria (processes) and will be undertaken in a non-discriminatory manner.

Certification Europe Ltd confines its requirements, assessment and decision on certification to those matters specifically related to the scope of the certification being considered.

An independent Certification Manager has been appointed with responsibility to oversee and verify the impartiality of the assessment of certification procedures. All members of Certification Europe Ltd declare any financial or other interests in companies that are presented for assessment and certification.

Certification Europe Ltd personnel are not authorised to undertake, recommend the use of, or provide consultancy /technical services relating to the design, implementation. or maintenance of management systems or other services that would require evaluation during a certification audit. In addition, they will be prohibited from suggesting that certification would be simpler or easier or less expensive if a specified consultancy service was used.

Auditors who have been employed or have undertaken consultancy services relating to the design, implementation or maintenance of the management system under assessment with the client company in the previous two years will not be selected in the audit/inspection team. All staff must declare any financial or business interests relating to clients.
